COURSE DESCRIPTION:
Chinese 120 is an introductory course to the Chinese language and the culture of its speakers. The purpose of this course is to facilitate the practical application of the language in everyday oral and written communication at the beginning novice level. There will be extensive student-oriented practice in class in pronunciation, listening comprehension, reading, writing and conversation that will enable students to function in Chinese in the most essential daily situations. Students will learn to master the pinyin pronunciation system and write Chinese characters. Since the focus will be on basic communication skills, the class will be conducted in Mandarin Chinese as much as possible.
Course satisfies General Education for: Grossmont College C2; CSU C2; IGETC 6A. Credits transferable at CSU & UC.

PREREQUISITES: No prerequisite

COURSE OBJECTIVES WITH SLO:
Lessons 1-8 in the textbook will be covered. Students will be able to communicate, both orally and in writing, with Chinese-speaking people about common, everyday topics by the end of the semester:

1. Know approximately 250 characters and have a vocabulary related to daily life, family, friends, school, work, and hobbies, etc.;
2. Master the Chinese phonetic system, basic grammar/sentence structures and communicate in Mandarin effectively with formulaic expressions;
3. Comprehend the main ideas of short texts – notes, messages and passages – in simple Chinese on a variety of familiar topics and are able to write sentences in Chinese;
4. Are able to discuss and relate to Chinese culture, customs and etiquettes and have a good foundation for further study.

NOTE: This is a 5-unit course; naturally there will be more materials to be covered in class per week (5 hours) compared to other 2 units or 3 units classes. I would love to help students do many of the workbook exercises in class, but it is natural and normal IF this course has a bit more homework than other 2 units or 3 units classes, since there will be comparatively more materials covered in five hours.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOK AND WORKBOOKS:

1. Liu et al., Integrated Chinese 4th Edition Vol.1 TEXTBOOK (Simplified characters edition), Cheng & Tsui Company, Boston, USA, 2017. (ISBN-13: 978-1622911356 / ISBN-10: 1622911350)
2. Liu et al., Integrated Chinese 4th Edition Vol.1 WORKBOOK (Simplified characters edition), Cheng & Tsui Company, Boston, USA, 2017. (ISBN 10: 1622911369 / ISBN 13: 9781622911363)
3. Liu et al., Integrated Chinese 4th Edition Vol.1 CHARACTER WORKBOOK, Cheng & Tsui Company, Boston, USA, 2017. (ISBN-13: 978-1622911370 / ISBN-10: 1622911377)

NOTE:

You MUST bring Textbook and Workbook – 1 and 2 of the above-mentioned – every class period ready to do textbook exercises and some of the workbook exercises in class. Please buy the books prior to the beginning of the academic term, as we begin the lesson during the first class-meeting.
As we don't allow students to use cellphones, laptops or any other electronic devices in the classroom, NO e-textbooks are allowed in the classroom.
The Workbook CD is sold separately. Audio files are available on the Canvas course site if you do not wish to buy the CD. You are also required to listen to the Textbook audios posted on the Canvas.

PARTICIPATION:
Attendance for all meetings is expected as classes are most effective when all students attend regularly and participate fully in classroom activities.
1. If the student is absent for two or more days of instruction or when the student's absences are, in the instructor's judgment, so excessive that the student will not be able to successfully complete the course, the instructor has the option to drop the student from the class.
2. Late arrivals and unannounced departures will be counted as half-day absences. Two late arrivals or early departures are one absence. Unexcused absences are considered NOT PARTICIPATING in class.
3. In the event that you must miss a class, it is your responsibility to find out what was covered during that class session. To that end, not only can you refer to the syllabus for each class session, but you also should consider exchanging phone numbers with at least two students in the class, people you can call to find out whether changes in assignments have occurred during your absence. You may notify the instructor of absences by email though this will not justify the absence unless a documented piece of evidence (doctor's note, court order, police report, auto repair documents, etc.) is submitted. Picking up someone at the airport, meetings with other professors, attending events or conferences for other classes, taking other exams . . . during Chinese 120 class periods are UNACCEPTABLE.
4. Randomly leaving and entering the classroom, eating, or sleeping during class is considered a distraction to other students as well as "not participating" in class. If this happens after a warning, the student will be asked to leave and counted as absent.
5. Students are expected to come prepared and must bring textbook and workbook every class period.
6  IMPORTANT: Your GRADE is based on your performance, not based on your ability. If you skip classes, you lose the participation points for the classes you skip, regardless of how good your Chinese is, i.e., no exceptions for native speakers or students whose Chinese is more advanced than the rest of the class. If you cannot participate in class activities because you do not have the textbook or workbook, you lose the participation points even if you are a native speaker or your Chinese is more advanced than the course expectation.

HOMEWORK
All assigned homework must be turned in promptly and all assignments are for credit and are worth 20% to 25% of your total grade. You will be penalized 50% for late assignments. To be regarded on time, homework must be handed in at the beginning of the class on the day it is due. Students are not allowed to do homework during the lecture. Late homework must be turned in within a week. Email submission is not acceptable.
Homework will be announced in class and/or posted on the Canvas. Any announcement posted on Canvas will be automatically sent to students' email addresses, yet it's the student's responsibility to check out the announcements on Canvas. Being absent or having problems receiving emails is not an excuse for handing in homework late.
NO HAND COPIES OF WORKBOOK PAGES ACCEPTED.

DICTATION, QUIZZES, TESTS, MIDTERM AND FINAL:
1. Students should show respect for others by being on time for the dictation, quiz, test or examination. 5 points will be deducted from the score for being late for the dictation, quiz, test or examination and no make-up of the listening sections the student misses will be given.
2. No leaving and entering the classroom during dictation, quiz, test or exam.
3. The instructor reserves the right to reassign seating on the day of test or exam.

FINAL EXAM is on Thurs, 05/23/2024, at 12:30 – 2:00 pm (See Class Schedule).

MAKE-UP POLICY:

Make-up test will be permitted only on the basis of an excused absence (doctor's note, court order, police report, auto repair documents, etc.), and it must be taken within a week from the original test date. If permission is granted, the test will be taken at the Assessment Center (Bldg. 10-Rm 170), otherwise, you get a zero on the dictation, quiz or test you missed.
There are NO MAKEUP EXAMS, nor are exams allowed to be taken early.

ORAL PRESENTATION:
Students will give presentation with a partner or in a small group (no more than 3) by the end of the semester. Details will be announced. No make-up for oral presentation as part of the final examination. Take the in-class practice opportunities to practice with your partner(s) to ensure you'll give a good oral presentation.

LANGUAGE:
The instructor will use Chinese as much as possible when lecturing, asking questions and responding; you are expected to do the same.

COMMUNICATION:
The instructor may communicate with students via email. Please update your email address.

ADDITIONAL PRACTICE:
For more oral practice, fun, new friends and to learn more about the Chinese culture, join the Chinese Club activities (meeting and event dates will be announced). Extra credit will be given to students for participating in the Chinese Club or an instructor-approved Chinese-language cultural event in the community.

Tutoring is available in the Tutoring Center located in Bldg.70 Rm 202 (upstairs in the Tech Mall) free of charge; however, the number of students that will be tutored is limited. If you think you might need a tutor during the semester, sign up as soon as possible.

GRADING AND EVALUATION:
Assessments:
Conversation, reading texts taught in class, writing and translating short sentences, identifying differences in tone and the meanings they convey, writing in Chinese characters, etc.

Students earn points in each of the categories below based on their performance:

Quizzes and Tests 25%
Dictation, quizzes and tests

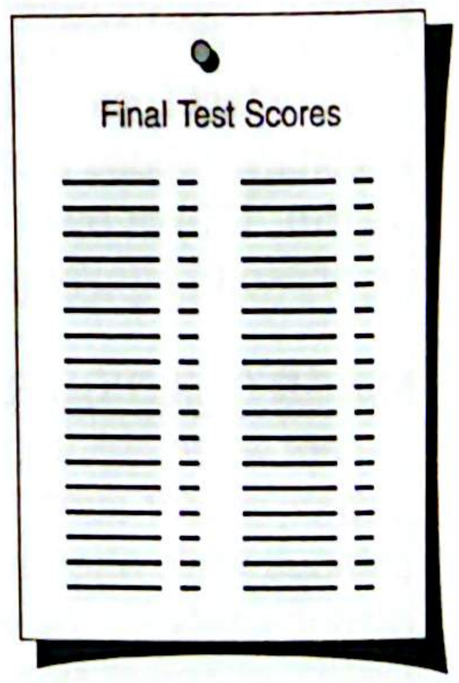

Midterm Exam 30%
Comprehensive, covers Lessons 1-4.

Final Exam 35%

Lessons 1-8
Oral	10%
Written	25%

Class Participation 20%
Students are expected to preview each lesson before class and actively participate in language practice.

Homework 25% / 20%
Students will be penalized 50% for late assignments. Make-up of incomplete will also receive a penalty.

NOTE: All homework assignments, quizzes, dictations, and tests count towards your course grade. No extra credit shall be offered for incomplete regular credit work. If you miss classes, extra credit will not redeem your participation grade.

The final course grade will be determined by the following straight letter grading scale based on cumulative points earned:

A (90-100), B (80-89), C (70-79), D (60-69), and F (0-59)
A minimum grade of C is required to pass. Students who get a D fail the class.

* You are not eligible for an Incomplete grade unless you have documented proof of a medical or family emergency that prevents you from completing the course.

When grades are given for any course of instruction taught in a community college district, the grade given to each student shall be the grade determined by the faculty member of the course and the determination of the student's grade by the instructor, in the absence of mistake, fraud, bad faith, or incompetency, shall be final. The instructor has sole and final authority in awarding grades based on his/her determination of the quality of the student's work in the course.

WITHDRAWING FROM A COURSE:
Should a student decide to stop attending class, it is his/her responsibility to officially withdraw from the course by using WebConnect (www.grossmont.edu), College Connection (619) 668-4040, or by filing a drop card at the Office of Admissions and Records. If the course is not officially dropped, the student's name will appear on the final grade roster, and he/she will receive an F for the semester. April 28th is the last day to drop semester length classes with W.

CLASSROOM CONDUCT AND ACADEMIC INTEGRITY:
Students are expected to treat each other with a high degree of respect. Overly disruptive behavior that affects the instructor's ability to conduct this class in an effective manner or the students' ability to learn will not be tolerated. The instructor may summarily suspend the student for the class meeting when the infraction occurred as well as the following class meeting, extreme cases can result in the extended suspension or expulsion as stipulated by the college's Disruptive Student Behavior Policy.
Cheating will result in an automatic F in the assignment, test, or exam and possibly the class. Under certain conditions, it can result in suspension or expulsion from a class, program, or the college, especially when the Student Affairs starts a record. Cheating in*cludes, but is not limited to,* signing attendance sheets on behalf of another student or allowing another student to sign on the student's behalf, plagiarism, looking at another person's dictation, quiz, test or exam, using notes or the text or talking to your neighbor during a quiz, test or exam. The instructor reserves the right to reassign seating on the day of test or exam, and no leaving and entering the classroom is allowed during dictation, quiz, test or exam.
Please tell me if others are interfering with your learning. To avoid "guilt by association," distance yourself from chronic talkers. Otherwise, expect to receive the consequences for their behavior, even if the talking is "about class".

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATIONS:
Students with disabilities who may need accommodations in this class are encouraged to notify the instructor and contact Disabled Students Programs and Services (DSP&S) early in the semester so that reasonable accommodations may be implemented as soon as possible. Students may contact DSP&S in person (Bldg. 60 Rm. 120) or by phone at (619) 644-7112 (voice) or (619) 644-7119 (TTY for deaf). For more information, go online to http://www.grossmont.edu/dsps/dspstesting.

MINOR CHILD/GUEST IN THE CLASSROOM
Except when children are enrolled in the Child Development Center, other instructional programs in the district, and/or attending public events under the supervision of parent or guardian, bringing children on campus while attending classes is not permitted. Parents and guardians must be aware that the ultimate responsibility for the safety of the children in their care rests with them and no liability can be accepted by the District or any of its agents or staff for the consequences of children being on campus (Governing Board Policy 3840). A one-time visit could be allowed with the prior approval of class instructor as long as the student knows that children must be carefully supervised and that this visit is only a one-time occurrence.

CELL PHONES, COMPUTERS AND ELECTRONIC DEVICE
As a courtesy to the class and the instructor, turn OFF all electronic equipment (cell phones, beepers, laptops, etc.) before entering the classroom and put them away where they cannot be seen. Your cellphone will be taken away if it rings. Should a violation of the policy occur again after a warning - whether I hear the phone rings, I see your cellphone on the desk or I see you using your laptop, you will be asked to leave, or 4 points will be deducted from your participation grade for each violation.
